

DDE Newsletter No. 18

World at Lunch ...

Junk food is the new tobacco: experts call for restrictions to tackle obesity. Read more ...

F1 does have a racism problem. Read more ...

How the pandemic made living plastic-free harder than ever Read more ...

With so much going on the case of Nazanin Zaghari Radcliffe has dropped out of the headlines, here is an update. Read more ...

Uighurs in China: What we know about the alleged concentration camps for Muslims. Read more ...

'Once upon a time in Iraq' on BBC Two or BBC iplayer. The series of five one-hour films is harrowing but well worth watching. Hopefully, it will instruct us not to do the same thing again. They cover the beginning of the war in Iraq, how it continued into the insurgency and then on to the ISIS occupation in Mosul. Watch ...

Articles ...

Without Paulette Wilson, Windrush may have remained hidden. Amelia Gentleman recalls the personality, experiences and battles of the leading campaigner. Read more ...

Windrush compensation so slow victims are dying before they get it. Home Secretary Priti Patel says there have been at least five deaths after claims were submitted but before they were paid and Labour says Covid-19 has left Home Office 'paralysed' Read more ...

Teacher walks hundreds of miles to hand-deliver 7,500 school meals to his hungry students. Zane Powles, assistant headteacher at Western Primary School in Grimsby, said he has been 'inundated with support' during the pandemic. Read more ...

'Money makes money': Uganda's Tarantino raises funds with rap. Wakaliwood's Isaac Nabwana swapped directing shootouts to parody music videos to support rural projects hit by Covid-19. Read more ...

Videos and podcasts ...

Marcia Rigg's interview ... she is part of the United Families & Friends Campaign and the Sean Rigg Justice and Change campaign. Although this is a 2017 interview she is still campaigning Watch ...

Join us in the Peruvian mountains, as Fairtrade coffee guru Hugo Guerreo spills the beans on the secrets of great coffee, in our new mini-series The Filter. Watch ...

Howey Ou: China's first school climate striker. Watch ...

Things to do ...

View the Hiroshima and Nagasaki CND exhibition commemorating the 75th anniversary of the bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Read more ...

Roaming with RAMM ... Each week, we will be releasing a series of clues to get you exploring the city on foot, unravelling riddles and breaking ancient codes as your search for six intriguing treasures lost to time yet standing in plain sight. Read more ...

Campaigns ...

An update on the campaign to persuade Nestle to keep KitKat Fairtrade ... Read more ...

The Department for International Development should remain a standalone government department, fully independent from the Foreign Office with its own Secretary of State, and a mandate to tackle poverty, inequality and climate change. Read more ...

Co-sign Luigi's letter to Oxford University and AstraZeneca. He's demanding they publish their secret deal and ensure big pharma monopolies don't stop affordable Covid-19 vaccines for all. Read more ...

Tory MPs have voted to keep the NHS on the table in trade deals. The Trade Bill will now go through the House of Lords, so it's time to call on the Lords to support the parliamentary scrutiny of future trade deals. Read more ...

Local news ...

Devon councillors to be asked to support Black Lives Matter campaign. Read more ...

Poem ...

No Problem by Benjamin Zephaniah Read more ...